

I'm paying for my satellite service and I should have as many services as XM Radio can provide me. There are many times when I'm travelling in the mountains and cannot get a "regular" radio station (not that I want to most of the time... and that's the reason I have XM), and if I need to know the weather I have it available from my subscription radio.